

Highlights

- 221 dengue outbreaks fitted under all 144 combinations of six analysis choices
- The verdict on climate forcing changes with the analyst in 92% of outbreaks
- 61% of the variation is an outbreak-by-analysis interaction no convention removes
- Nominal 95% intervals cover the truth 71–78% of the time on simulated data
- Combining eight analyses by Rubin's rules restores nominal coverage